INVESTMENTS IN PUBLIC SAFETY

Mayor Muriel Bowser has engaged District government agencies, community partners, and residents in a comprehensive effort to build a safer, stronger D.C. For two consecutive years the District has experienced significant decreases in crime across all eight wards. But, we know we can't simply arrest our way out of crime. We have to address the underlying causes of violence. That's why the District relies on a wide spectrum of both police and non-law enforcement solutions, including job opportunities, court diversion programs, and reducing student truancy. Below are crime reduction trends over the last three years.

A NEWSLETTER FOR OUR ADVISORY NEIGHBORHOOD COMMISSIONER PARTNERS

CITYWIDE OVERVIEW

When comparing the total number of burglaries reported in 2017 to the total number of burglaries reported in 2015, each district experienced moderate to substantial decreases: specifically, the Fourth and Fifth Districts with 48% and 56% decreases, respectively.

Situational Awareness

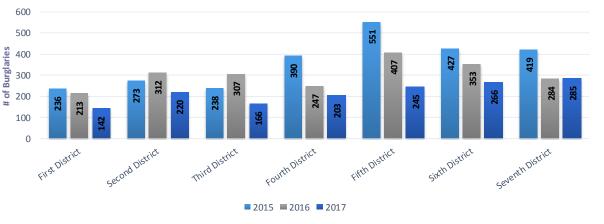

- Over 49% of burglaries reported in 2017 took place between 8am – 3pm.
- Residential burglaries accounted for 68% of all burglaries in 2017.
- Many residences were left unsecured or did not have alarm systems activated.

Burglary Prevention

- Lock your doors each time you leave the house and when you return home.
- Install outside lights and keep them on at night.
- Report broken locks and broken lights to your property manager.
- If you hear someone breaking into your home, leave safely, if possible, and then call the police.

District Comparisons

Yearly Burglary Comparison Jan 1 - Dec 31 (2015, 2016, 2017)

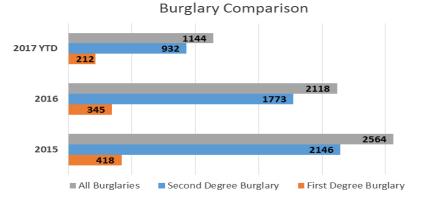

FIRST DEGREE VS. SECOND DEGREE

Burglaries are divided into two categories:

First Degree Burglary: The commission of a burglary as described in the DC Code while any person is in any part of the dwelling.

Second Degree Burglary: The commission of a burglary as described in the DC Code while the dwelling or building is vacant.

MPD HOLIDAY HEROES: Shop with a Cop and Heroes and Helpers

On December 6, 2017, 100 District of Columbia students were treated to a $100 shopping trip at Walmart as part of the Metropolitan Police Department's annual "Shop with a Cop" program.

On December 14, 2017, an additional 100 students were treated to a $100 shopping trip at Target as part of the Metropolitan Police Department's annual "Heroes and Helpers" program.

MPD RECOGNIZES HISTORY & DEVELOPS NEW TRAINING

The Smithsonian National Museum of African American History and Culture (NMAAHC) opened to the public on September 24, 2016. The museum is the only national museum devoted exclusively to the documentation of African-American life, history, and culture. Beginning in 2018, every civilian and sworn member of the MPD will tour the museum and participate in an informative training. MPD is one of the first law enforcement agencies to development this type of training.

On April 6, 2017, recruit Class 16-7 was the first MPD recruit classes to visit the NMAAHC. The following day, the recruits shared stories of their experiences touring the museum. Their stories can be found here: Recruit Class 16-7 Visit to NMAAHC

During the video, Chief Newsham shares, "The Civil Rights Movement is not too far in our history's past. It was just a number of years ago. There are many people who live in our city, who lived through that, and they saw the way that law enforcement was either an active participant or was complicit in participating in holding folks down, just because of their race." He added, "To see law enforcement stand by while that was happening, talk about a pretty eye-opening experience for law enforcement officers. The message that we're trying to get to officers, overall, is, you've got to question things, especially when they look wrong, and see whether or not we're playing a role in something that is really wrong. That's not us. That's the way it was. That was an embarrassing time in American policing history, but now we're moving forward."

MPD'S SPECIAL LIAISON BRANCH (SLB) JOINS LUNAR NEW YEAR CELEBRATION IN CHINATOWN

It's never a dull moment for the Special Liaison Branch (SLB). February is a particularly busy month for the Asian Liaison unit (ALU), as various organizations in the city welcomed the Lunar New Year of Dog. On Thursday, February 15th, core and affiliate members of the ALU were present for a large Lunar New Year Celebration at the Chua Giac Hoang Buddhist Temple, in the Fourth District.

On February 18th, the entire SLB team welcomed the Lunar New Year at the annual Lunar New Year Celebration and Parade in Chinatown. The team staffed an outreach table, conducted outreach on foot, and marched in the parade. In the parade, ALU officers greeted the crowd in both Mandarin and Cantonese to wish them a prosperous year of dog. Inside of the Chinatown Community Cultural Center (CCCC), ALU Outreach Coordinator, Ms. Kay Gibb, ALU Affiliate Officer Hannah Luo, and ALU intern, Ed Tang, gave out stickers, pens, key chains, and bracelets, along with demonstrations on how to make paper swans (origami).

MPD's Community Engagement Academy

MPD is currently preparing for the Spring 2018/Summer 2018 Cohort of the Community Engagement Academy (Cohort #9/10). The application deadline was extended to March 2, 2018. LEARN MORE HERE!

Launched in 2015, the Community Engagement Academy – a six week program – allows interested community members the opportunity to learn firsthand about police operations. Through this initiative the Department seeks to provide participants with a personal view of the positive aspects and challenges that confront officers on a daily basis. During training participants learn about:

- The Recruit Training Program
- Common Policing Scenarios and Challenges
- Juvenile Issues and Youth Investigations
- Patrol Services and take Station Tours
- Specialized Policing Units (e.g., K-9, bomb squad, harbor patrol)
- The Use of Force Discussion
- Various Policing Topics from Command Staff Members
