RE: Resolution in Opposition to the Proposed Initiative Amendment Act of 2023

On April 18, 2024, at a duly noticed and regularly scheduled meeting of Advisory Neighborhood Commission 6E (“ANC 6E” or “Commission”) conducted virtually via videoconference and with a quorum of 6 out of 9 Commissioners and the public present, ANC 6E approved the following resolution by a vote of 6 for, 0 against, and 0 abstentions:

WHEREAS, the voters of the District of Columbia enjoy the right of initiative, i.e., the ability to “propose laws (except laws appropriating funds) and present such proposed laws directly to the registered qualified electors of the District of Columbia for their approval or disapproval,” as guaranteed in the Home Rule Act of 1973, as amended;<sup>1</sup> and

WHEREAS, the right of initiative in the United States is an important legacy of the Progressive Era, when reformers established the initiative process and used it to implement landmark democratic policies, such as primary elections, direct election of United States senators, home rule for municipalities, permanent voter registration, fair apportionment, labor rights and protections, women’s suffrage, elimination of poll taxes, and environmental protection, inter alia;<sup>2</sup> and

WHEREAS, the right of initiative has served since that time as “a safeguard against the concentration of political power in the hands of a few” and “a means of putting new ideas on the political agenda”;<sup>3</sup> and

WHEREAS, the right of initiative is not enjoyed by citizens in all jurisdictions in the United States, with roughly one-half of states offering their voters no ability to participate in direct democracy through the mechanisms of initiative or referendum; and

WHEREAS, the right of initiative, in many jurisdictions where it does exist, has been under sustained attack by officials and vested interests, as “part of a larger antidemocracy blueprint” to “suppress the will of voters and undermine democratic processes,” including but not limited to efforts to impose additional requirements for ballot qualification, to raise the approval percentage for adoption, to require passage in multiple successive elections, to levy filing fees, to limit initiatives to a single subject, to empower state officials to unilaterally block initiatives from appearing on the ballot, and to restrict judicial interpretation of laws passed by initiative;<sup>4</sup> and

WHEREAS, on September 18, 2023, Councilmembers Phil Mendelson and Anita Bonds introduced in the Council of the District of Columbia a bill entitled “Initiative Amendment Act of 2023” (B25-0475), hereinafter “the proposed Act”; and

WHEREAS, the proposed Act seeks to restrict the right of initiative by codifying an interpretation of the Home Rule Act’s exclusion of “laws appropriating funds” that would disallow all “proposals that would have a fiscal cost” of any sort;<sup>5</sup> and

WHEREAS, nearly any new law can be construed to entail a fiscal cost in the course of its implementation, such as the expenditures for outreach and education that typically accompany a change in public policy; and

WHEREAS, the District of Columbia Court of Appeals has interpreted the “laws appropriating funds” exception on multiple occasions, finding that “[a]ll that the ‘laws appropriating funds’ exception actually means, in the concrete, is that the people may not seek, through the initiative, to propose and pass an actual budget request act ... as the Council’s deliberations on the Charter Amendments make clear”;<sup>6</sup> and

WHEREAS, the District of Columbia Court of Appeals has further found that the “legislative history of the exception ... shows that the Council did not exclude a matter from the initiative right because of its prospective fiscal impact,” and that “to construe the exception in [such a] manner ... would be to effectively write the initiative process out of existence”;<sup>7</sup> and
